

Dear FCC Commissioners & Officials, I am a subscriber of XM Radio for the last year and a half. I travel extensively and find that my satellite radio is tremendously helpful. I can receive programming, news and weather information in some areas I cannot pick up any local radio stations. While visiting towns I am unfamiliar with I can get much needed and useful traffic and weather information extremely easily with my XM radio. Scanning the local am or fm bands for the right traffic and weather info can be near to impossible with the dozens of radio stations broadcasting. XM Radio has made it easy for me to get the information I need. Just because XM Radio has developed a new method of reaching a radio audience they shouldn't be legislated out of their right to do business and offer a better product to consumers.

I strongly and respectfully urge you to reject NAB's petition 04-160. America is all about freedom and the right to conduct business in a fair and just way. The FCC should not legislate protections for some businesses while stifling others. Consumers should have a choice.

Thank you for considering my comments and recommendation.

Sincerely,

Tomas Moore
